Course Aim

Personal Development courses can help you to take up a new interest, learn for enjoyment, build your confidence or gain skills for future employment or self-employment. This online course, using Zoom for delivery, is free for all learners and will enable you to learn more about the subject, develop new skills and also find out how participating in learning can support your wellbeing. The course is designed to enable learners to use a range of simple techniques to produce still life drawing and paintings.

Course Outcomes

- Introduce participants to elementary drawing and painting techniques.
- Recognise the principles of arranging a pleasing still life composition.
- Draw and paint objects with shading and texture
- Evaluate work with confidence.
- Understand how participating in learning can increase personal confidence and a sense of wellbeing.

How will the course be taught?

The course will be taught online via Zoom and will be a live interactive class. Joining instructions along with unique log in for the session will be emailed to you by our support services team prior to the course start date so please check your email address prior to the class.

What do I need to bring?

To take part in the course, you will need a computer, laptop, phone or tablet connected to the internet and be able to view a live video stream. We also recommend that you have a pen and notepad to hand during the sessions.

A3 drawing pad and a number of soft B pencils 3b, 4b and a putty rubber.

Learners should select the type of paint type media they prefer, paints or alternative media such as pastels. You will need a sheet of heavy weight cartridge paper and a palette, water pots and small number of brushes if using paint.
