Course description

Learn2b courses are free of charge to anyone who lives with (or has experienced) a mental health disorder. Diagnosis is not essential. Tutors, who are selected specifically because of their own experiences of mental health illness will support you through a variety of teaching and learning in a safe and welcoming environment. All tutors are qualified in subject matter and passionate about the principles of Learn2b. Creativity can be an excellent tool for managing your thoughts, feelings and emotions. In this course you will get the opportunity to experiment with using collage as a means of reflecting on and exploring life. Create a new artwork from a stack of old magazines and discover the importance of image creation in visual brain stimulation. Examine how you can use creative collage techniques to increase feelings of positivity and improve your mental and emotional wellbeing.

Course Outcomes

1. Learn a variety of different collage techniques.
2. Use mixed media techniques within your work.
3. Explore an experimental approach to collage.

How will the course be taught?

The course will consist of practical demonstration by the tutor, practical input by learners and 1:1 support will be provided where necessary.

What do I need to bring?

A pen and notebook may be useful if you would like to make notes. You should bring reading glasses if you require them as there will be a little bit of paperwork to complete. If the course takes place over a whole day then you should bring a light lunch with you.

Taking the first steps and staying safe

Please let us know if there is anything we can do to help and support you on this course. We understand that trying new things and meeting new people can be daunting. You can trust your tutor to make you feel really welcome, but we can also provide further support if this is your first time attending. One of the Learn2b team can meet you, help you settle in and assist you throughout the session. We want you to relax and gain as much as possible from our courses, we will go out of our way to ensure this happens.

When you enrol, please let us know if you require additional personal support to participate in this course. Your tutor will give you information about Health and Safety on the first day.
